The European Money Markets Institute's Data service terms and conditions

1. Service

The European Money Markets Institute provides an on- line validated benchmark data service on the European Financial Markets. The information contained in the data service is provided through Information Vendors or alternative electronic means, as requested. The data service includes benchmark rates and market information.

2. Limitation of liability

Whilst all care is taken, and notwithstanding the independent validation of the information, the European Money Markets Institute is not responsible for the accuracy or timeliness of the information and will not be liable for any damages sustained by a subscriber, or any other person, arising from the use of, or reliance on, the European Money Markets Institute's information contained in the data service.

3. Access

Subscription to the data service enables a User to receive and use the European Money Markets Institute's data service through an authorised Information Vendor or other electronic means, for the limited purposes, and under the terms and conditions of this agreement. This subscription gives the User site access (as per the site/address details supplied for the organisation) and the organisation is permitted to use and retrieve the European Money Markets Institute's data service information for internal purposes only, and for the sole use in the named organisation. The subscription does not permit an organisation to redistribute, recirculate or republish information, communicate, including to third persons, except for insubstantial amounts of data incorporated in value added reports supplied to clients on an infrequent basis as part of the User's ordinary course of business and for which no separate data charge is made to the recipient, or commercially exploit the Data Package in any form or by any method. The subscription to the European Money Markets Institute's data does not permit its use as an underlying in any financial instrument without prior written authorisation from the European Money Markets Institute.

4. Subscription charges

The current annual subscription charges (excluding all relevant taxes, if applicable) for the service appear below and are based on the following criteria and subscription types:

Subscription type	Annual fees
Global subscription (all named bank sites globally*)	€41,600
Country subscription (unlimited access to the named bank within one country)	€10,400
Medium-size country subscription (up to 12 screens to the named bank in one country only)	€5,200
Single screen subscription (conditions apply)	€520

5. Commencement and term

This agreement will commence on 1 January 2021. The European Money Markets Institute will advise the relevant Information Vendor(s) of the organisation's subscription to the European Money Markets Institute following receipt of a signed copy of this agreement. The annual subscription period is from 1 January to 31 December. A pro-rata subscription charge will apply for agreements signed part way through the subscription year. This agreement will automatically renew on 1 January each year unless written notice of termination is received 60 days prior to the renewal date (1 January).

6. Changes in the service

The European Money Markets Institute reserve the right to change the format and/or content from time to time without advance notice.

7. Intellectual property rights

All information and material contained in the European Money Markets Institute’s data service is, and remains, the property of the European Money Markets Institute, and is subject to intellectual property (including trade secrets and proprietary know-how) protection.

8. Governing law and jurisdiction

This Agreement will be construed in accordance with and governed by Belgian law. Parties submit to the jurisdiction of the Brussels commercial courts.

On behalf of I subscribe to the European Money Markets Institute’s data service to receive all fee liable benchmark rates and pricing pages as calculated and published by the European Money Markets Institute, and further confirm that I have read and accept the Terms and Conditions that appear above.
